

column a story about Nozo, the Tiburon Island Indian, who has been credited with running a bundred yards in nine seconds, three-fifths of a second faster than Arthur Duffey's wonderful record. The thing must have attracted some attention, for the following letter came in a few hours after the paper went to press. Sporting Editor Evening World:

"I noticed your story about Nozo in to-day's paper. Your reference to Arthur Duffey makes me wonder if he has any record. I understand that the A. A. U. has erased his performance from the record books. How about it? "The story said that Nozo can run lown a deer or a jack-rabbit. I never saw either of these animals. Was it a jack-rabbit in your picture? I in-close a two-cent stamp for reply. Yours WM. J. FELDKAMP."

S for Arthur Duffey, he undoubtedly has a record of 9 3-5 seconds for running 100 yards. Although the A. A. U. has actually taken his records from the list of amateur performances, he did run 100 yards in that time. He ran it in the American Intercollegiate games at Berkeley Oval, personal record. If he was a professional at that time, it is the profes-sional record. One or two other pro's have been credited with equalling it, but none of their efforts were timed under circumstances which so absolutely guaranteed accuracy. It is still a world's best amateur or professional.

I notice that while the official record books of the A. A. U. have out this performance out other lists still carry Duffey's name, notably the book compiled by Mr. T. S. Andrews, a Western uthority on sporting matters, and the Police Gazette publications.

Wasn't Thinking Much.

I wasn't thinking very much. I was catching my breath. I looked over to-ward the cab and caught a glimpse of Mrs. Fitz looking somewhat anxiously out of the window. Fitz looked around

"Come on," said he. "Ride up town with us."

I climbed in and sat on a dog. It velped. The other black poodle took a nip out of my tendon of Achilles-that's one of my vulnerable spoots. However, that was a mere detail after talking fight with Bob.

The cab started.
The fight was a delicate subject, but there's no use beating around the bush with Fitz. I went straight to the point:
"Bob, were you worn down, or did O'Brien get away with you in the thirteenth round?"
"Worn down! He never 'urt me at all. I was as strong and fit as I ever was in my life. I never figured on O'Brien 'aving a chance. I couldn't see 'im at all. He biacked both my eyes with jabs. but he never hurt me.

My seconds grabbed me and straightened me up. I was faint and I could feel my heart stop beating. I fell right over again. I thought if I could lie down a second on the floor I would be all right. Graney jumped in as I fell the second time and turned to O'Brien and held up his hand. He did right. I was in. I don't know what struck me. I think my heart stopped beating and that made me faint."

HAYMAN'S TRIP TO SOUTH MAY STIR THINGS SOME

BY FRANK W. THORP.

ORRIS HAYMAN will leave for New Orleans on Thursday. His roll of the control of the property of the proper New Orleans on Thursday. His string at Crescent City has not been doing as well as last year. Evidently there is a need of a head to affairs. Hayman got into town on Saturday with Mrs. Hayman. Saturday being the 13th day of the month and Mrs. Hayman being superstitious to a degree, was reason enough for Morris remaining over night at the Hotel Bris-tol rather than go to the magnificent OUT OF M'GOVERN MATCH new home which was bought with the winnings of last season.

Hayman said that he liked his trip between Terry McGovern and Battling Nelson which is billed to be fought in the second Regiment Armory in Philadelphia on March 16 may not take place. There are two reasons given for this announcement. The first is that Matchmaker Bob Deady, the instigator of the bout, has withdrawn from the confest, while the second is that Billy Nolan, manager of Nelson, has not covered McGovern's forfeit of $2.000 as yet, although Terry's forfeit has been in the hands of Stakeholder Thomas G. Murphy, of Philadelphia, for several weeks. Nolan and Nelson showed in Philadelphia last week, and although they were both informed of the fact that McGovern's forfeit was un and that they should cover it, both Nelson and Nolan left for Milwaukee this week withing doing so.

When Hayman arrives in New Orleans things about the "Paddock" are likely to liven up a bit. Pool-rooms have been hit pretty hard so far this winter for the representate of winning winter, for the percentage of winning choices has been something remarkable. Moreover nearly every good thing that has been wired from New Orleans to Dave Gideon and his clan at the Hoffman has gone through. So good have these wires been that in many instances the bettors have been unable to get their money down except at prices far below those quoted on the track. Any time a hot good thing is put over the plate nothing is known of put over the plate nothing is known of it in New Orleans, for it is kept as quiet as possible so as not to affect the price. But pool-room men are as wise to this as the bettors. So when a big bettor calls up on the 'phone a conversation something like this takes place:

"What's the price against So and So?"

"Four to one," answers the pool-room man.

"Nope. Don't want it."
"What price will you lay?"
"Well. we are loaded up and don't care for more. You can have 2 to 1 for $50," says the pool-room man.

blue, and there is a smell of sulphur as the bettor softly swears to himself. He knows he has practically a sure thing, so he says:

"Gimme 8 to 5 for the thousand?"

He may get on or not. There have been times this winter when horses have been quoted at 2½ or 3 to 1 at the track that bettors about town have been begging for even money.

Yesterday the pool-room men came into their own. None of the good things got home, and only two of the thirteen favorties won.

In between races the other day a pool-room man was chatting with a friend over the wire.

"Say." he said. "You know in this business we gradually accumulate a choice collection of bum checks. I'll bee that I have the worst bunch of checks of any man in New York."

"How so?" asked his friend.

"Well, I have been putting them in in old wallet, and that wallet I carecastly left in the pocket of another coat i few days ago. When I got home a lew nights ago I found that my dog had pulled the wallet out of the pocket and had chewed and torn it to small bits. But those bum checks were so bad that he wouldn't even touch them, and they lay scattered all over the floor unharmed. Now, those checks must have been bad when the dog passed—them up, especially when that dog has a mania for chewing everything that comes his way."

In the main event Jack Johnson, the colored heavy-weight champion of the world, met Joe Jean nette, another colored pugilist, in three-round contest, which was interest ing from the tap of the gong until a sounded again ending the bout.

sounded again ending the bout.

In the first two rounds bonors were even. Jeannette was the aggressor, and leaded many stiff jabs in Johnson fasts, and also beinged him hard in the body. Johnson returned these blows by countering hard with left swings on Jeannette's face and stiff uppercuits en his body. In the last round Johnson had the best of the fighting, getting in many hard smashes in Jeannette's face and wind at close quarters.

At the Colma A. C., in West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, Edlly Kelly, the Avonia A. C. middle-weight, met Pat O'Rourke, the husky fighter whe stood off Peter Maher on the previous night.
